Goodlife Energy is a new community initiative in South Staffordshire which could save residents on average £300 a year on their gas and electricity bills.

After testing the initiative at one of our work clubs recently, we helped a number of people save up to a staggering £480!

Goodlife Energy is a pilot partnership between South Staffordshire Council and local company Compare Energy Bills who can sit down with residents and help them through the switching process.

It provides special rates for our residents by securing cheaper energy prices just for them. We also make sure people get the best deal year on year when renewing their contract.

Councillor Len Bates said: “Everyone should have the opportunity of paying less, particularly when there are considerable savings to be made. Together we want to help people save money. Many residents are paying more than they should for the energy they use because they haven’t switched for years. The scheme has been set up to help people switch and make it easy for them.”

Leader of the Council, Brian Edwards MBE said: “The council is delighted to be able to offer such a beneficial service to the people of South Staffordshire. Goodlife Energy is the only scheme that provides this special service just for our residents”.

This is a partnership scheme helping to reduce fuel poverty in the district. It is not a collective switch or new energy company.

Councillor Mrs. Diane Holmes, the outgoing Chairman of South Staffordshire Council, raised a total of £5,600 for her chosen charities and has thanked those who have contributed to the cause during her year in office.

Cheques for £2,800 were presented at the Annual Council Meeting on the 10th May 2016 to representatives of the two charities: Flt. Sgt Stacey Marshall and Ian Campbell, Liaison Officer and Branch Support Officer from the RAF Association, and Squadron Leader Chris and Mrs. Ann Peters of Brewood First Responders.

Councillor Mrs. Holmes said: “I take great pleasure in presenting these cheques and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has contributed and supported my charities during my year as Chairman of South Staffordshire Council.”

Councillor Holmes’ one year term in office has now come to an end and has been replaced as Chairman by Cheslyn Hay South Councillor, Bernard Williams. Councillor Williams took on the role in May and will be supporting The Steve Bull Foundation.

The Chairman of South Staffordshire Council, Councillor Bernard Williams, and his Consort, his son, Cllr. David Williams, were privileged to attend a very special occasion on Tuesday 24th May, when they were invited to Buckingham Palace for the Royal Garden Party.

A long serving Councillor with South Staffordshire Council, Cllr. John Michell and his wife, Mrs. Stephanie Michell, also attended the Royal Garden Party.

The Chairman, Cllr. Williams said: “It was a wonderful experience that will last for our lifetimes and it made us feel very proud to be enjoying a day in the presence of Her Majesty The Queen during her 90th year.”

South Staffordshire Work Clubs are there to provide advice and guidance on a number of factors that can support you in gaining employment.

The registered charity, which has now been operating for five years, offers help and advice with a variety of issues and work with a number of partners.

Last year, over 260 people attended the work clubs which operate all over the district. As a result of the support they received, 55 of those people moved into employment and 23 people into various volunteering roles.

The charity also runs a series of Job Fairs throughout the year, most recently in Great Wyrley which took place at the end of April. Over 200 local residents attended to gain advice and guidance from a range of local companies and employers and 78% of these residents said they found the event useful to them. Due to the success of the event, a further event will be planned in Codsall later this year – keep checking our website for more details.

The clubs were also successful in gaining funding from the Nat West Skills and Opportunities Fund and as a result have been able to provide Employment Confidence Building Workshops for 40 individuals.

Councillor Brian Holland, Chairman of Codsall Parish Council, has also designated the South Staffordshire Work Clubs as his chosen charity for the next 12 months.

Cabinet Member for Strategic Services, Cllr. Bob McCardle says: “The work clubs are a huge success for South Staffordshire and I am delighted to see that a significant number are gaining employment as a result”.

Our three Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs) have worked closely together over the last year. We now have one management team led by one Accountable Officer.

The doctors (GPs) from our practices have also started to work more closely together. They have helped us in our work to improve the quality of care and save money by being more efficient. They have helped us make decisions about the services we buy (or ‘commission’).

We have kept our promise to improve our financial situation, which is still a priority for us. Now we have kept our promise to ‘commission’.

We have helped us make decisions about the services we buy (or ‘commission’).

We have made a difference to more people by working together.

You can read more about our achievements in the next few pages.

Next year we want to:

› make sure we only spend the money we have
› keep working towards buying primary care services ourselves
› have better relationships with our GPs and patients so we can talk to them about the services we buy and understand what they want
› provide good-quality services for people in our area. We want to make sure they have everything they need to be healthy and avoid becoming ill. And if they do become ill, we’ll help them look after their own illness for as long as possible. This will be done through the Staffordshire Transformation Programme.

Our three CCGs have a lot to be proud of. We have made a difference to more people by working together.

How we have improved services

Money matters

Every year CCGs are given a block grant by health services for local people - this can be calculated as a fixed amount per person. Services use this money to meet the needs of people in your local area. Some examples are:

- Primary care drugs
- Hospital services
- Social Care services
- Health promotion

Specialist services, such as burns and trauma, are organised and commissioned nationally by NHS England.

Since the CCGs formed in 2013, lots of work has been done to improve the financial analysis of local NHS organisations. This year, each of the three CCGs and their board agreed a "contractual adjustment" of £357m for Cannock Chase, £71m for Stafford and Surrounds and £20m for South East Staffordshire and Seisdon Peninsula.

At our CCG we buy (or ‘commission’) some services directly for patients, such as hospital and community services. We also work in partnership with other CCGs as our patients may choose to use a hospital that is within Staffordshire but is commissioned by another CCG.

The healthiest place to live and work by 2025... how do we do this?

The three CCGs have changed a lot over the last financial year. While our management teams have joined together, each CCG has retained its own priorities.

We need to make sure services are financially sustainable across Staffordshire, at the same time as focusing on our local projects about better commissioning and primary care. We are asking our staff to deliver complex and difficult change, under pressure and with fewer resources than before.

These challenging circumstances mean our three governing bodies agreed to work more closely together. This partnership aims to combine the best features of each CCG, increasing efficiency and reducing waste.

January to April 2016 was a period of discovery.

Goals

› Change the culture: hospital to home, professional to patient
› Focus more on prevention
› Involve everyone for improved health and care
› Empower and support patients to take control of their own health
› Ensure services support people to make informed decisions

We have assessed the strategic issues we face through:
› two away days for staff
› an event for clinical leaders
› five meetings with our GP members from different areas
› an event with patients and public to discuss our priorities
› interviewing our lay members
› Executive Team meetings
› a joint event for the three governing bodies.

This process has helped us to establish how we want the three CCGs to look in the future. Our stakeholders, patients, GP members, voluntary groups and staff have all contributed to our new shared goals and values:

Values:

› We are honest, accessible and we listen
› We innovate and deliver
› Quality is our day job
› Care and respect for all

Get involved

Patients can have their say on health services by taking part in groups run by their local GP practice. Patient Participation Groups (PPGs) have been set up at most of our practices, enabling people to get involved in decisions about their local health service.

The groups are run by patients, for patients. They work together with their practice to look at things that could be improved there. This could include making changes to the practice building, or the systems for making appointments or ordering prescriptions.

By taking part, patients can also learn more about what we’re doing as CCGs, and let us know how well they think things are working.

Representatives from the PPGs come together for regular district or network meetings. This gives members a better idea of what’s happening across the area.

Any patient can join their practice’s PPG – just ask at reception for details. If your practice does not have a PPG but you would still like to get involved, please contact your CCG (see contact us section).

Helping patients to get back on their feet

The Integrated Physiotherapy Orthopaedic and Pain Management Service (IPOPS) offers care plans for people who have problems with their muscules and bones. This could include physiotherapy, advice on pain management or exercise routines.

The service is commissioned by South East Staffordshire and Seisdon Peninsula CCG. It serves patients from clinics across the Seisdon Peninsula, including Featherstone, Cossall, Peront, Wombourne and Knver, Sir Robert Peel Hospital in Tamsworth and Samuel Johnson Hospital in Lichfield.

One patient, who had suffered with knee pain for a long time, said: “I was struggling to carry out my duties at work and came with doubts about whether physiotherapy would help. How wrong I was! I am now free of pain and working again with no restrictions.”

Another patient benefited from a series of classes provided by IPOPS. “I can now walk up the stairs to your department instead of using the lift as I did on my first few visits. I intend to carry on with the exercises at home. I have found the factsheets very informative and helpful in the day-to-day management of my osteoarthritis.”

South Staffordshire Council has recently invested £35,000 to equip Wombourne Leisure Centre with 26 top-of-the-range Matrix studio cycling bikes. The investment also included the very latest Matrix Myride facility allowing users access to innovative and interactive workouts with virtual instruction and virtual tours which are delivered using forward motion video.

Since the installation of the Myride facility back in April, it has enabled Wombourne Leisure Centre to really extend their studio cycling programme with a combination of instructed classes, virtual classes and tour coached workouts. The facility now offers over 50 cycling classes each week, and also offers several hours whereby customers can turn up at their convenience and pick their very own workout.

Earlier this year Tarmac Ltd, stepped in to help its neighbour Baggeridge Country Park, by re-surfacing large sections of the park driveway which had suffered over the winter months and as a result had several pot holes.

Cabinet Member for Environmental Services, Mrs Mary Bond said: “We are extremely grateful to Tarmac Ltd. Their community spirit and generosity means Baggeridge entrance is now free of potholes, saving the council in the region of £10,000.”

Site Allocations Update

We are making good progress towards the publication of the final sites for the Site Allocations document (SAD).

We received around 1,000 representations to the public consultation on our preferred sites which ended in February this year. Over 800 of those responses were from local residents with the main concerns raised relating to highways issues, Green Belt, impact on the natural environment and the capacity of local services and facilities, including schools, to cope with new development. You can see all the comments made at www.sstaffs.gov.uk/siteallocations

We are taking on board all of these comments in recommending to Members which sites should go forward as part of the SAD. Once Members have had the opportunity to consider and discuss all the information, we will publish a final SAD for further public consultation, hopefully in the Autumn.

When we have the responses to the consultation, we can then send the SAD to the Secretary of State who will appoint an independent Inspector to hold a public examination. When the Inspector is happy with the SAD and it is formally agreed, we can move forward with the development of the sites.

You can see all the work on the SAD so far, and next steps, at www.sstaffs.gov.uk/siteallocations

NEW EDUCATION CENTRE IN DEVELOPMENT

The next 12 months will see the redevelopment of a former sewage treatment plant into a vibrant environmental education centre for the local community to use and enjoy.

The ‘Hilton Green’ site is being developed by the Forest of Mercia Community Interest Company in conjunction with the Hilton Partnership Board. A grant from Veolia of over £90,000 has been secured to help fund the landscaping on site, and training events are already starting to take place.

Cabinet Member for Environmental Services, Mary Bond said: “This will be a unique and hugely beneficial facility for the people of South Staffordshire who I am sure will all be inspired by the new environment”.

Partnership work to provide ecological benefits

The Friends of Bilbrook group in partnership with VINCI Construction and Jaguar Land Rover, have organised the planting of a new wildflower meadow on the Millennium Way open space in Bilbrook.

This colourful meadow will provide an attractive landscape feature that visitors can really enjoy. It will also create a valuable new habitat for wildlife and contribute to the recommendations of the National Pollinator Study by providing an area for bees and other insects to flourish.

VINCI have also carried out further works on site to create a new disabled access from Watery Lane and installed new interpretation boards and seating.

Cabinet Member for Environmental Services, Mary Bond said: “This is a great example of partnership work creating real, visible improvements to one of our sites. We hope that projects such as this can help to halt the decline in the bee population across the UK”.
Since 2011, it is illegal for any sunbed businesses to allow under 18s to use sunbeds. Anyone found to allow, offer or use sunbeds or be in a restricted zone area can be prosecuted and fined up to £20,000.

So, what are the risks?

Sunbeds, sunlamps and tanning booths give out ultraviolet (UV) rays. These can increase the risk of developing skin cancer, and the risk is greater in young people under the age of 25 who are frequently exposed to UV rays.

There is a myth that using a sunbed is a ‘safer’ way to tan than tanning in the sun. Sunbeds are no safer than sun exposure. Several factors need considering including: the strength of the UV rays from the sunbeds, the maintenance of the equipment (failure to maintain the lamps can increase the UV to much higher levels), how long you have session form and the age and type of skin.

Will using a sunbed make my tan look better?

No, in fact it can make your skin more coarse, wrinkled and leathery. Using a sunbed after sunbathing can damage your skin further.

Do Not use sunbeds/tanning equipment if:
- you have fair or sensitive skin that burns easily or tans slowly or poorly;
- you have a history of sunburn, particularly in childhood;
- you have a large number of freckles and/or red hair;
- you have a large number of moles;
- you are taking medicines or using creams (including alternative medicines and therapies) that sensitise the skin to sunlight;
- you have a medical condition that is worsened by sunlight;
- anyone in your family has had skin cancer;
- you are under 18 years old.

Do
- make sure you know how the equipment works before you use it including how to turn it off and where the emergency button is;
- always protect your eyes using goggles. Do not rely on closing your eyes or cotton wool as you could damage your eyesight;
- remove cosmetics, deodorants or accelerants before using tanning equipment;
- make sure the tanning equipment is clean before you use it and always clean the equipment when you have finished;
- check your skin regularly – if you notice a reaction during the tanning session stop using the equipment and do not use UV equipment again until you have seen a doctor;
- seek medical advice if you notice an unusual skin growth or a change in the size, shape or colour of a mole that occurs over weeks or months.

Residents in South Staffordshire can now benefit from a new pest control service, thanks to a new partnership between South Staffordshire Council and local company, Opkill. The new partnership means that some pest control services will be cheaper for residents. Deputy Leader of the Council, Roger Lees said: “We are delighted to have entered into a contract with Opkill. If you live in the district and experience a problem with pests in your home, we recommend that you contract Opkill for help at a reasonable cost.”

If you have pests in and around your home and need help and advice from Opkill, please call the 24hour Freephone number on 0800 9804142.
